I am in no way affiliated with the maker of this tool but was interested in showing you how awesome it is as well as it's new additions to the free software. Make sure you subscribe to my mailing list to get notified of future additions. Download: 1. Download Java or.exe: (Note: You can always try the manual way instead by downloading.exe files directly from this page by right clicking the download link and "save link as") 2. Install the Java: 3. Unzip and set your path: 4. Run! You will see some video settings. That is all for now as I am working on the game. You can also see the 3D view on the picture below and download the log if you like. For those who did not download here is the download link: 5. Download the log: (Note: Downloaded logs will be in text so they may not work in your browser) 1. Extract the zip file 2. Browse the directory 3. Copy the data.txt file in the data directory and paste it into a text editor. 4. Then go to data and copy/paste the log into your text editor. 6. A new file called "log.txt" will be created. Enjoy! Please be aware that the game has a bug and will not work right after the new version is installed. Make sure you play the game first and then install the updated game. Preview: Alright, I have been working on some stuff and have finally managed to create the "clean room" for the game. Basically, I have taken the files from the rom and put them in a "room" on the hard drive. This way, I can easily fix and debug things and I don't have to worry about moving files and corrupting them. This should also be somewhat more secure since the files are now stored in a location I control. I have to modify the game to be able to access the files but I am sure that should be simple. It is still missing a few functions, but I have added a song generator so you can experience the nice music I have made for this game. For now, you can only play in the "daylight" (I 82157476af
